KEYNOTE SPEAKER

José M. Barral Sánchez, MD, PhD, Vice Dean, UCSF Fresno

Dr. Barral Sánchez oversees medical education, faculty development, and research growth at UCSF Fresno, including the expanding partnership with UC Merced. His commitment to education and research has been recognized by numerous awards and appointments. He is committed to increasing the quantity and quality of physicians practicing in the San Joaquin Valley, and advancing UCSF Fresno's mission of improving health, and expanding access to care for all in the region.

9th Grade Student Session

Future Healers: Hands-On with Med School Simulations
Ever wondered what it's like to be a medical student? Get inspired as CHSU students guide you through real simulation stations where you'll practice medical skills and see firsthand what it takes to step into the world of healthcare.

ROOM 201

In partnership with: California Health Sciences University (CHSU)

10th Grade Student Session

Operation Labubu: Mass-Casualty Challenge
A giant Labubu has attacked! This mass-casualty simulation, inspired by the Labubu "attack" at Caruthers High School, gives student first responders a hands-on chance to assist "victims" with wound care, CPR, head trauma, sprains, and more. Plus explore a Sheriff's helicopter. Deputies will explain its lifesaving role in search-and-rescue and law enforcement. There is no need to fear—everyone will be saved!

Media Center

In partnership with: Samuel Merritt University and Fresno County Sheriff's Office

11th Grade Student Session

Stitch It Up!
Get ready for a suture activity designed to introduce you to basic surgical techniques using surgical tools and simulated blood that mirrors real-life medical procedures. This guided session goes beyond observation, allowing students to practice precision, focus, and problem-solving skills that healthcare professionals use every day.

ROOMS 303 304

In partnership with: HealthForce Partnerships

12th Grade Student Session

The Future of Medical Education in the SJV
Join Foundations 1 (F1) Faculty from UC Merced's Department of Medical Education (DOME) as they share how medical education is evolving in California's Central Valley via the SJV PRIME+ BS/MD program. Through real-life case studies & faculty-led lectures, the session will highlight innovative approaches, community partnerships, and lessons learned that prepare future physicians to address local and regional health needs.

ROOMS 503 602 603

In partnership with: UC Merced Department of Medical Education (DOME) Foundations 1 (F1) Faculty Susan DeRiemer, Ph.D. and Julia Alvarez, Ph.D.
